At the time that Bob came home from the army, we were very short handed on man power, as Olaf had gone back for his last year of Medical School, and Lewey wasn't back yet. Christ and Nettie had been here. So Bob just stayed on and helped out. There wasn't any place he would rather be, as his folks were living in Minneapolis. A few days after he got back, his family had a family reunion. All three boys, Harry, Earl, and Bob were back from the service, and the rest of the family were all home. He was only gone a few days, but it was really lonesome without him.

I finished my year of teaching out, and did not go back in the fall, as we planned to be married in November 1920. I had the summer and fall to get ready for my wedding.

B stands for Baseball, Bugler and Boxer.

Old timers tell me tales of boxing matches they saw and what a terrific boxer my Dad was. I've never hear his Bugle tho. Football, rail road worker carpenter, chicken picker, draysman, Farr hand, cowboy, Soldier and now he goes to meet his good and becomes a married man, and all the girls can sigh and give up.

We were very happy at our wedding. We had done a lot of planning and I tried to think of everything I could, to make it as nice as possible. Bob had made the arch and we painted and decorated it. We had a bell (fold out kind) at the top of the arch and a Dove of Peace with two gold rings in its beak, on the wedding cake. We saved both the bell and the dove, and we used them fifty years later on 25 November 1970 at our Golden Wedding. Also the crystal candlesticks were used at both occasions.

My sister Clara and her husband, had moved back from Banks to Cyrus, and she was very good to come over and take charge of the Thanksgiving Feast, we had after the ceremony. We had roast turkey, and all the traditional trimmings.

One famous incident happened at the train station. We were to leave on the midnight train from Morris to go to Minneapolis/ We were a little late and the train was already starting to move. Harry jumped on and stopped the train. Two embarrassed newlyweds got on. Everyone on the train was wondering why the train stopped, and who the VIP's were, but Harry was the Hero.

After our honeymoon, we returned to the Satter farm and lived in the "Dorm" for two years. My parents had added screened porches to both houses so this enhanced our summer living. During this time, on 15 August 1921, Dorothy Jean our first daughter was born. We had a nurse, Mrs. Reimers, come and stay and help us for a week.

My father, Andrew died a month later on 18 September 1921. His years of illness ended; for my mother, her long time of care and vigil for my father was over.
